Dear Maria,

I think we are all tired hearing about this so called "COVID-19 Pandemic" which has only succeeded in scaring a lot of vulnerable people, getting them furloughed, possibly bankrupting many of their employers, and even worse: giving more opportunity for power grabbing Oligarchs and their lackeys like the Clinton Foundation with their creepy "Contact Tracing" plans:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0IDURYmdGeg&feature=youtu.be>

Or Bill Gates (Microsoft Founder) with his plans to "Vaccinate" and the entire world with vaccines of unproven effectiveness, and also creating a comprehensive global Identity database.

Also, I think it will take a long time (perhaps not in our lifetimes) before the word "Socialist" does not elicit fear and mistrust in the Collective American Psyche.

I think most Americans will agree to some extent, even if only tacitly, that wealth inequality a major cause for concern in this country and is causing a lot of problems. However, they will not support wildly progressive agendas that will transfer wealth to what they perceive as the "FSA" (the Free Shit Army)

<https://www.urbandictionary.com/define.php?term=F.S.A.%20%28Free%20Shit%20Army%29>

However, I think that most Americans would support good legislation and policy changes that would help strengthen the position of the working middle class who are more likely to conduct business solely in the United States and actually hire people here, as opposed to Oligarch owned multinational corporations who have the means and ability to engage in wholesale Global labor arbitrage.

Here are two examples of the sort of legislation and policy changes that would help to strengthen the working middle class, actually create jobs, and help reduce our dependency on Chinese and other overseas manufacturing.

Example 1:

"The Right to Manufacture in America Act" - a proposal for Patent Law Reform. (attached PDF)

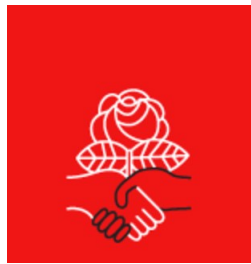

Example 2:

"The 10,000 Ounce Rule" - A proposal for Small business Funding (also attached PDF)

Note: I had originally written "The 10,000 Ounce Rule" with a focus on Israeli Law and the Global Jewish Community, but it could easily be restructured for inclusion into the U.S. Federal Tax Code and with disbursement of business funding delegated to the U.S. Small Business Administration. I also included background information with this proposal regarding it's creation process in order to help ensure that the context and spirit of the proposal would not be misunderstood or misinterpreted.

Furthermore, I would advise that the DSA should experiment with forming a new organization that does not have "direct ties" to DSA and use it to test the effectiveness of this shift in focus on strengthening the working middle class; you should name this organization something like the "Responsible Capitalist Party" or the "Small Business Alliance Party" (something that does not include the word Socialism or Socialist) and use it to promote the sort of legislation that I provided examples of above; and see if this organization garners more support than DSA.

On April 17, Representative Ilhan Omar introduced H.R. 6515: the Rent and Mortgage Cancellation Act, which would enact a national rent and mortgage suspension because of the coronavirus pandemic. DSA's National Housing Justice Commission and our National Political Committee voted to endorse H.R. 6515 and we are working with organizations like National People's Action as we fight to cancel rent.

Dear SBDC, SBA,

I reviewed the various loan programs described in your e-mail, however these programs do not seem like they will result in a sustained positive effect on the economy and small businesses. I came up with much a better Capital Disbursement Program to help small businesses, and encourage the growth of both small scale manufacturing and small scale agriculture, and also ultimately stimulate the broader economy in a much more sustainable manner in the wake of this "COVID-19 Pandemic".

I had previously shared the outline for this program with James Bullard, President of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, (and also others in the Houston Community) perhaps your agencies could collaborate with his organization and other concerned individuals and entities to put this program into effect and ACTUALLY help small businesses, and this country recover from decades of Gross Misallocation of Capital, destructive government policy, and overall neglect from policy makers and regulatory agencies.

See attached PDF: "Comments - Advise for James Bullard - Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis 200416"

Please do not hesitate to reach out to me if you need more policy ideas to encourage small business growth, revitalize the middle class, and get this economy back on track and working for EVERYONE.

Also take a look at another great policy idea regarding Patent Law Reform that I came up with a few years back: <https://www.ahh.biz/other/events/the-right-to-manufacture-in-america-act.php>

Thanks,

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis,

This message is for your your President & CEO, James Bullard

Please forward it to him.

James,

In reference to your comments on forcing Americans to wear badges to identify them as having been tested for COVID-19:

<https://twitter.com/QAnonNotables/status/1247068602026446849>

St. Louis Federal Reserve Head says Americans should be tested for COVID-19 daily and forced to display a badge on their clothing with the result.

I don't think you realize how out of touch you and your peers are to the plight and attitudes of the common man. I think you should get a clue.

COVID-19 / Corona Virus Update

Keep this in mind:

The public panic & general stupidity seems like it is worse for your health than the actual "Corona Virus"; which hasn't even approached the mortality of the common "every-year" flu. Prepare accordingly.

<https://www.cdc.gov/flu/about/burden/preliminary-in-season-estimates.htm>

<https://off-guardian.org/2020/03/24/12-experts-questioning-the-coronavirus-panic>

<https://ncov2019.live/>

Keep everything in perspective and keep in mind that this Corona Virus may be a "cover" or distraction for the economy tanking for reasons unrelated to any so-called Pandemic (more likely: the end of the US "Petro" dollar as the dominant world currency, and the over valuation of the stock market for the past 4 years). Under extreme fear from this Corona Virus, people may be willing to accept curtailment of civil liberties, that the government would have a difficult time implementing for an economic collapse alone.

I am available for (paid) consultation on this subject of "the plight and attitudes of the common man", should you find the need to educate yourself some more on this matter.

Dear VFI,

Twenty or twenty five years ago this soft call for Sayanim would have appealed to me as a exciting and rewarding way to serve my country and community. As a child of the 1970's, the words of former president Kennedy were still fresh in the American collective mind; "Ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country." My generation of middle class boys were made to memorize the first paragraph of Thomas Paine's "The Crisis", we were raised with "GI Joe Action Figures" and memberships in The Boy Scouts of America (modeled after the British organization founded by Sir Robert Baden Powell, a military intelligence officer; as a means to recruit boys into careers in government service from a young age)

We were told that America was the greatest country in the world, because upstanding patriots serving our government and fighting wars for our country made us a free people. Therefore, as boys we had a moral obligation to serve our country, and make sacrifices, up to and including our lives, so that our families, our communities, and our nation could continue to receive "G-d's" blessings of freedom and democracy – Hooah!

Today, at almost fifty one years of age I still feel obligated to serve my nation(s) and protect my community, however Intelligence and Military Service is not where I could best assist you. I can best assist you in the area of POLICY, because I can plainly see that what our nation(s) are in dire need of is: EFFECTIVE POLICY.

Go ahead and look at these pictures (attached) of the homeless encampment in the middle of Tel Aviv and tell me about Tikkum Olam or how I should join Volunteers for Israel. I don't think that the opportunity for volunteer service with VFI you e-mailed me about will benefit most Israelis; but I am pretty sure it will benefit this bunch: Shari Arison, Stef Wertheimer, Yitzhak Tshuva, Sammy Ofer, Lev Leviev, Arnon Milchan, Haim Saban, Benny Steinmetz, Morris Kahn

https://www.forbes.com/lists/2006/81/biz_06israel_Israels-Richest_land.html

I'm not going to pretend that I am any scholar of the Torah or Talmud, most of what I know of these books comes from casually browsing Wikipedia on occasion to satisfy a passing curiosity. Even from this limited study It seems to me that Jews love good laws and policies.

We Jews have all sorts of interesting laws and rules, some old, and some like the Dead Sea Scrolls; recently discovered (and I'm sure there are a lot more undiscovered caves in the Holy Land.)

The laws regarding Shabbat: now that is a piece of work; but I am surprised that only a weekly Shabbat is mentioned, and not a “Lifetime Shabbat” or in other words: “Provisions for Retirement”.

Shabbat should include lifetime limits on the amount of work a person can perform. These limits should be measured in a manner that is clear and ubiquitous to all, the value of Gold.

The “10,000 ounce limit”

For the value of 10,000 ounces of gold (some 281.25 Kg), a person who is not foolish or unwise with money, or extremely unlucky, could live without working, for their entire natural life in comfort and ease virtually everywhere in the world where there is relative peace and stability, and some respect for money.

A person who at any time in their life accumulates a net worth of more than this value of 10,000 ounces of gold (the “Obligated Person”) would be obligated each Rosh Hashanah to grant (not loan) this excess wealth to a “Deserving Person or Persons” who will not squander it, but will use it for the betterment of the community by creating work, tangible goods, and wealth for others.

The limit for each “deserving person” to receive in a lifetime is the value of 1,000 ounces of gold.

A “Deserving Person” shall meet the following criteria:

1. The “deserving person” is not related closely to the obligated person and would be permitted theoretically under Leviticus 18, to marry the “obligated person” (or their opposite sex sibling).
2. The deserving person has demonstrated that they are capable in productive labors / business and are proficient in handling money. This will be determined by having had a net worth greater than the value of 100 ounces of gold, but less than 1,000 ounces, for no less than 5 years.

Criteria: Money / wealth granted to “Deserving Persons” by “Obligated Persons” is granted for the purpose of “betterment of the community by creating work and wealth for others”. Therefore this wealth can only be used for the following:

1. The purchase of Commercial, Agricultural or Industrial Real Estate that the “Deserving Person” will be operating an existing business from.
2. Equipment, tools, machinery, or stocks of materials or merchandise to expand or supplement an existing business.

All “deserving person” recipients of this wealth, must sign a legally binding contract stipulating that they too will abide by the “10,000 ounce” limit and grant their excess wealth to others in accordance with this law.

Shabbat Shalom,
